ASIAN STUDIES MAJOR DECLARATION SUPPLEMENTAL FORM
Williams Hall ♦ 610-758-4490 ♦ Kiri Lee, Director ♦ kjl2@lehigh.edu

The Asian Studies major is designed to accomplish three goals: to ground the student in a regional language and culture, to survey various disciplines in Asian Studies more broadly, and to provide advanced research opportunities. The program, when successfully completed, prepares the student for further graduate work, professional education, or employment in the public or private sector. There is an increasing demand for graduates who combine a major in a disciplinary field (e.g., business, economics, international relations) with a second major (or minor) in Asian Studies, including Chinese or Japanese language competence.
